Management:

Peter Wilson: CEO

Mr. Wilson has been the lead financier for public and private companies raising over $300 million worth of equity and debt financings in the mining and energy fields internationally during the last 20 years.

James Rogers, SENIOR VP EXPLORATION, P. Geo

Mr. Rogers is a geologist with forty years of experience in the gold mining and exploration industry. Starting as a mine geologist in 1980, Jim has almost 30 years in the Red Lake Gold mining camp in roles as Chief Geologist, Exploration Manager and as president of a junior exploration company. In the early days, Jim and his team discovered the high-grade zone at the Red Lake mine. Jim also spent 9 years as chief geologist at the Eskay Creek Mine where grade control and metallurgical study were critical to profitable mining and to expanding reserves. Jim is a team player and mentor and that has a good understanding of economics, mining methods and the structural interpretations of ore bodies, excellent 3D and "Big Picture" strategic vision particularly as they relate to gold system exploration and development.
